

Poem from Jason

Hey you, yes you!

We need you; a dynamic force of nature to complement our unique charity.

A hands-on approach whenever, wherever, as well as your own tasks in the job.

That's what we are asking of you thus far.

ALL-comers are welcome to apply,

(ours is not to reason why)

with of course, experience necessary, to run a smooth ship in our hip community of brain injury survivors and staff who are skilled and supportive.

We require an enthusiastic, fantastic individual,

to take us forward to the half century of existence

after the previous 25 years of persistence

to make Headway East London the stand-alone beacon of light in the darkness, of those in need this kind of person we require

indeed, we do.

It's over to you now.
